

You're Invited To Investments in STEM Research and Education: Fueling American Innovation

21st Annual Coalition for National Science Funding

Exhibition & Reception

Wednesday, April 29, 2015
B338-340 Rayburn House Office Building
5:30 pm – 7:30 pm

The exhibition will feature science, mathematics and engineering research and education projects supported by the National Science Foundation. Researchers, educators, and students from all over the U.S., will answer questions about their efforts to help meet the nation's research and education goals.

Food and beverages will be offered at this widely publicized event.

RSVP by April 24th to casey.burnett@cu.edu or 303-831-6178

Exhibitors include:

Afterschool Alliance
American Astronomical Society
American Economic Association
American Educational Research Association
American Geosciences Institute/Geological Society of America/American Geophysical Union
American Mathematical Society
American Political Science Association
American Psychological Association
American Sociological Association
American Statistical Association
Association of Science-Technology Centers
Boise State University
Coalition for Academic Scientific Computation
Computing Research Association
Council on Undergraduate Research
Ecological Society of America
Entomological Society of America

Federation of Associations in Behavioral and Brain Sciences
Incorporated Research Institutions for Seismology
Mathematical Association of America
Michigan State University
Museum of Science, Boston
North Carolina State University
Northwestern University
The Ohio State University
Princeton University
Society for Industrial & Organizational Psychology
Society for Neuroscience
Society for Research in Child Development
Stevens Institute of Technology
University of California
University of Colorado Boulder
University of Illinois
University of Michigan
West Virginia University

The Coalition for National Science Funding (CNSF) is an alliance of over 140 professional organizations, universities, and businesses advocating support for the National Science Foundation.